

hold Limited Licenses to Instruct. If the need arises and if possible these teachers will be considered for employment.

Training

Teacher will receive one, two to three hour interactive training session for each new theme. Also, internet access will be available for teachers to speak with the developers of the Camelot Program. In addition, tutors will be supplied with all the necessary materials including lesson plans, transparencies, and enough student handouts for every student in the class. Teachers will have everything they need right at their fingertips. There will never be a need to search for appropriate or additional materials. Nor will the teacher have to run to the copy machine to run off lessons. Additional training as necessary will be provided. Bi-weekly meetings will be held so that feedback, good and bad, can be expressed and addressed by Education Fundamentals, LLC. Daily visits from Education Fundamentals, LLC staff while tutoring is in session will occur to address any program questions.

Evaluation/Monitoring

The program will be monitored using several strategies including but not limited to

- ◆ Camelot Theme Pretests for screening and baseline information
- ◆ Camelot Pretest Reports for individual student analysis
- ◆ Camelot Post Tests to measure progress
- ◆ Camelot Post-Test Reports to document individual student progress
- ◆ On-site control group comparison to verify program effectiveness
- ◆ Daily observations
- ◆ Weekly progress reports
- ◆ Varied assessments throughout the program to monitor strengths and needs
- ◆ Tutors will receive written evaluations after being observed by Education Fundamentals, LLC

Parents will be notified of their child's progress via weekly progress reports, parent conferences and a culminating program to acknowledge the students who have participated. Also, a work folder will be maintained for each student and parents will be allowed to view the folders at any time.

The various districts have different requirements in terms of documents needed for evaluation. Education Fundamentals, LLC will meet each of the districts specific requirements. In addition, Education Fundamentals, LLC will keep a computer generated progress chart for each student enrolled in the program using assessments the students have taken. This will ensure that students are learning and achieving. It will also help trouble shoot students that are struggling and need additional support.

Pricing for Supplemental Services

Education Fundamentals, LLC will charge each school district $95.00 and hour per student.
